

EARL THOMAS WRITES BILL

Marion County Representative Introduces Tax Measure in Assembly

Earl E. Thomas, Marion county representative in the state legislature yesterday introduced a bill in the special legislative session at Columbus to change the expiration date of the Whittemore delinquent tax bill which was re-enacted earlier this year.

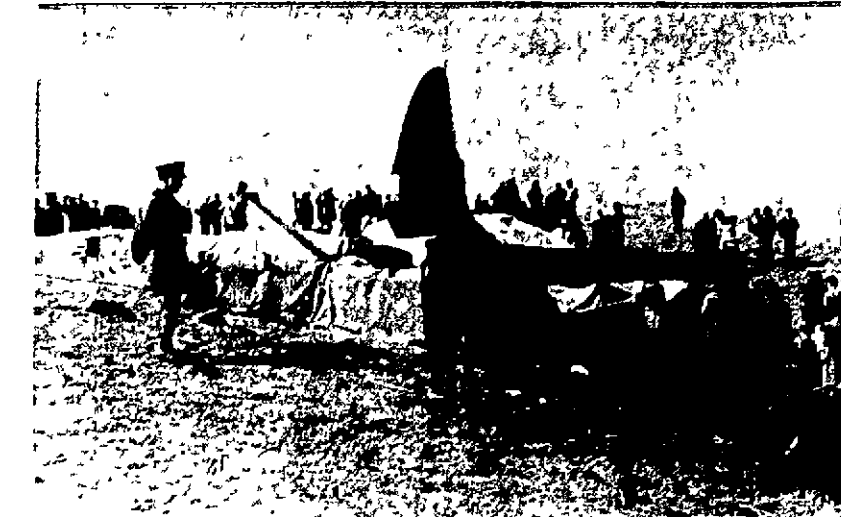

This bill would have the delinquent tax bill expire Sept. 11, 1939, instead of Dec. 31, 1938, as provided in the measure re-enacting the Whittemore bill. It enables real estate owners who are in arrears on taxes to pay delinquencies under certain conditions without paying all of the accumulated penalties for delinquency.

The proposed change in dates Mr. Thomas explained, would make the Whittemore bill expire at the same time the tax collection period ends next September, whereas if the date were not changed the law would expire in the middle of the following December tax collection period and cause confusion.

Mr. Thomas said today an Associated Press dispatch from Columbus published yesterday's edition of The Star was in error in reporting that he planned to introduce a bill to reallocate the entire $10,000,000 annual revenue from automobile license fees to political subdivisions.

He said he plans to introduce no such bill but explained he had commented at a conference of legislators with the governor Monday night that a part of the license tag money, possibly $3,000,000 to $4,000,000, should be allocated to political subdivisions to reimburse them for losses that resulted from the exemption from taxation of certain forms of property in 1931.

KILL THAT COLD

Give It No Chance to Survive Thru the Use of Half-way Measures!
Treat a cold to kill it, not to let it live. Many a cold lightly treated turns into something worse. Hit a cold "where it lives" in the system! That means to take an internal treatment. Hit it with a cold medicine, not with a preparation good for all kinds of ailments. Grover's Laxative Bromo Quinine is the treatment you want. First of all, it is a cold tablet, made expressly for colds. Second, it is internal medication and of fourfold effect. Here's what it does: First, it opens the bowels, an advisable step in the treatment of a cold. Second, it checks the infection in the system, a vital step. Third, it relieves the headache and fever.

Virtually all projects approved for the state are for street sidewalk and alley reconstruction. Those approved for Marion county call for $33,772 in government funds to reconstruct streets and $21,717 for taking quarry stone from the old Evans quarry for macadam streets. HIS EXCELLENCY

One of a series of Associated Press sketches telling about the men who occupy the governors' chairs in the various states.

E. W. MARLAND

The Governor of Oklahoma. Once one of the nation's wealthiest oil executives, Gov. E. W. Marland of Oklahoma saw his personal fortune dwindle. He blamed the wolves of Wall street for forcing a merger of his Marland Oil company with the Continental Oil company. Turning to politics for the first time in 1931 this short stocky native of Pennsylvania was elected Democratic congressman from a normally Republican district. He rode high on the new oil tide. On election as governor he launched a program of state spending that drew heavy opposition from the legislature. But he found ready support in Washington for proposals with a federal tie-up. After his first wife died in 1926 Marland married her niece whom he had previously adopted as his daughter. This young woman entertains with charm and simplicity at the executive mansion and the Marland estate in Ponca City. The governor now 61 is an outdoor enthusiast and a humanist. He loves the odor of crude oil.

Your Health

BY DR. R. S. COPELAND

Gout

I have a friend who collects old prints and caricatures. Among them are ancient English caricatures which picture in laughable manner the appearance of sufferers from gout. When the big toe is involved the foot swathed in bandage and elevated the night capped victim makes a funny sight. Even today when such attacks are far less common we can recognize the suffering from his sleep.

Pain in Joints

The pain is usually confined to the joint of the big toe but other joints may be involved. Whether it attacks the tissues over the joint becomes red swollen and extremely painful. The pain is increased upon the slightest pressure or movement. Because sudden jarring produces pain the sufferer is tense in his efforts to avoid contact with others and to avoid any undue motion of his own. Other symptoms are fever, thirst, nausea and even vomiting.

Gout has been known to afflict mankind for centuries. It was described by Hippocrates who gave it the Greek name podagra. Many outstanding physicians of previous generations wrote about this ailment although little of its true nature was known. Today great advances have been made in the treatment and prevention of this disturbance.

Contrary to common belief gout is not found only among the rich and those who enjoy luxurious living. Of course it is more prevalent among those who overindulge in rich foods. For this reason the disease was often referred to as the King of Diseases and the Disease of Kings. But common folk may have it too. With the latter group it is sometimes confused with arthritis, rheumatism and neuritis.

Bad Infections

Gout is not an infectious disease. It is not caused by a germ or an injury. It is due to something going wrong in the chemistry of the body. As a result of this disturbance there is an excessive accumulation of uric acid in the system and the uric acid salts are deposited in the joints. This results in the symptoms of gout.

The amount of uric acid in the system is influenced by the food we eat. Certain ones contain elements which combine to make uric acid. When the diet is rich in such foods, unless the chemistry of the body is normal there may be an excessive amount of uric acid salts. Among such foods we find meats, meat extracts, bouillon, green beans and kidneys. For the gouty person these must be omitted from the diet. It is well too, to avoid starches, sugar, dried and grainy things, coffee, tea and alcoholic beverages.

Many physicians advise that the diet should be restricted to plain food, such as rice, barley, oatmeal, and fruit. This is a good plan, but it is not the only one. Some physicians advise a diet rich in alkali, such as lemon juice, which helps to break down the uric acid salts.

It is important to remember that gout is a chronic disease. It may not be cured, but it can be controlled. The key is to keep the uric acid level in the blood as low as possible.

For more information on gout, consult your physician. He can advise you on the best diet and treatment for your condition.

Remember, gout is not a punishment for sin. It is a medical condition that can be managed with the right care.

Stay healthy and happy by keeping your diet in check.

BARRYMORE SHOW OPENS IN OHIO CITY THURSDAY

Star Will Bring Company Here Tuesday; Palace Box Office Open

Today in East Liverpool, O., Ethel Barrymore is setting theatrical precedent by having dress rehearsal for her play "The Constant Wife" which she will bring to the Palace theater next Tuesday night. As far back as anyone can remember, no Broadway stage star has taken her play to an inland city the size of East Liverpool for dress rehearsal and to open a road tour. The play will be presented at the German theater there on Thursday night.

To accommodate patrons the Palace theater box office will be open daily from 10 a. m. to 12 noon to make reservations and at the usual afternoon and evening hours.

Miss Barrymore and her supporting cast will arrive in Marion in the private car in which she will make her coast-to-coast tour.

Miss Barrymore said recently that to go on the road is a joy because plays with public lines are caught more readily on the road than in New York because audiences in the road show either come to the theater to like a play where as in New York they often come hoping to hate it.

She has found that acting today is more specialized than it used to be. This absence of historical versatility Miss Barrymore believes is caused by too little education and too meagre resources of those who go on the stage.

The actress mentioned stock company work as one means by which a performer could obtain a variety of experience—adding however that under stock conditions—playing one play rehearsing another and studying a third—it is rarely that one sees a creditable performance. Although she never played in stock Miss Barrymore said that the many different kinds of roles she has taken have been of inestimable value.

Although few stage people will mention their hopes for the future Miss Barrymore admits having one lifelong ambition—to have a picture company of her own.

I would produce four or five perhaps even or eight plays each season, she said. Some will be Shakespeare, others will be modern plays. We will play in New York or on the road just as I always do.

Radnor Church Centennial Set for Week of Oct. 14

Special to The Star. RADNOR O. Oct. 14.—Centennial of the construction of the Radnor Presbyterian church often called the Old Stone church two miles south of this community in northwestern Delaware county will be celebrated from Oct. 14 to 20 in a series of special services.

Dr. John T. Marshman head of the speech department at Ohio Wesleyan university has been pastor of the Old Stone church for the last 20 years. Hundreds of Marion residents have attended meetings there.

For Dr. Marshman it will be the second centennial celebration in recent months in which he has a part. When the community of Blooming Grove in northern Morrow county celebrated its centennial in August Dr. Marshman a native of that place delivered an address dedicating a marker in commemoration of the celebration.

First Church in 1810

In connection with the Old Stone church celebration the one hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the First Presbyterian church in Delaware county will be commemorated. The Old Stone church is a branch of the original.

It was in 1810 that James S. Hughes, a Presbyterian minister established a Presbyterian church in Delaware after migrating from Washington, Pa. This is the parent church of those now located at Liberty Radnor and Delaware. Rev. Hughes is believed to have been the first minister to preach in Delaware county.

Originally serving the entire county this church later was replaced as worship headquarters by a group of Radnor residents who in 1830 built a two-story log structure six miles south of here to climinate long trips to Delaware.

Log Building Abandoned

The log building was used as a church until 1830 when the congregation moved into the present Old Stone church.

Ohio Cities Prepare to Go to Polls

(This is another of a series of stories on interesting elections.)

By The Associated Press. LOHAIN, Oct. 9.—William V. Grall, perennial candidate of Lohain politics is hitting the come back trail in the race for mayor.

Grall a candidate on the Democratic ticket for either mayor or president of city council in every city election since 1917 will be up against the Republican incumbent, L. A. Braun.

In his last term as mayor, in 1928 Grall received wide attention when he named his wife to the position of safety director. A former Y. M. C. A. secretary, he has served three terms as mayor and two as council president.

Braun, a native of Lohain and a banker for 40 years entered politics two years ago and came right up in the mayor's office. He polled a record vote in the Republican primaries this year.

The fight for city collector between Marshall Keep, winner of the Republican nomination in a heated four-sided primary, and John P. Gurnea, defeated candidate, has had a sinister edge for the Democratic nomination on a record, to be used to share the spotlight with the battle for mayor.

A warm contest between the candidates for two school board vacancies and a drive to secure a special three-mile school bus also figure prominently in the Lohain election.

NEW TRAFFIC LAW REDUCES MISHAPS

By The Associated Press. COLUMBUS, O. Oct. 9.—State motor vehicle officials say the heavy traffic toll on highways has been checkmated as far as the reckless and drunken driver is concerned, by enforcement of the drivers responsibility law.

Frank West, registrar of motor vehicles, cites the deterrent effect of the new legislation as a sure sign of a new rural driving era. The law was enacted Aug. 20.

"The drunken and reckless driver has found at last," he said, "that he has no place on Ohio highways. Although this law has only had less than two months' trial," he added, "it has checked up 160 citations and 10 to 15 arrests."
